“Artistic” is the most common word that Guiliana’s friends and family use when they are asked to describe her. This young lady from Argentina loves singing and was a member of a choir for several years. Guiliana also enjoys dance and would love a chance to take contemporary dance lessons in America. She paints and draws and even has a flair for decorating. Guiliana plays handball, hockey and volleyball. She considers herself a perfectionist and recognizes that, sometimes, that trait slows her down. She plans to study art in college. Guiliana then plans to work in some kind of creative field.

Dear future host family

Hello, I'm Guiliana but everyone calls me Guili or gui and I'm really happy and excited because you are considering me to be part of your family. This letter is for you to know me better, how my personality is, and to tell you about my hobbies and interests.

I live with my mother and my uncle, my father lives in another country with his wife.

My friends and family would describe me like a charismatic, friendly, respectful, sensitive, responsible, independent, honest, generous and studious person. They say that because I really like meeting new people. I am always present in any situation; I enjoy spending time with my friends and my family. I like to help others with their problems. I do the things that I have to do in my time but it is for a good result. I always try to treat others with the greatest possible respect, because I think this is the most important part of any relationship.

My relationship with my family is great, we have arguments as in any other family, and we really enjoy spending time together. I love my friends, I think they are a big part of my life. I'm very grateful to have them in my life and have a close connection with them.

I usually seek advice from my parents when I'm in a situation where I feel I can't manage. For example when I'm very sick or I have serious problems at school or when I have strong arguments with my friends.

I think patience and the ability to solve problems are the most important values for me. It's something that my friends and my family value and consider a characteristic of me.

I'm very interested in art: I love singing and dancing, since I have memory I'm always singing or dancing. I remember when I was a child doing "shows" for my family. I was part of a choir from 7 to 12 years old and I had to quit for the hours I had to spend at school, but despite this I keep singing to this day and it's something that fascinates me. I also took classical dance lessons for 2 years and I had to leave for the same reason, but in the school we have a show of dance and since I entered to school I always participate because I think this something magical: the body can transmit as many emotions through movements and as one expresses. Unfortunately, I could never train well in any type of dance but I would be fascinated to be able to train in contemporary dance or any other in an academy. I also like drawing and painting.

I love decorating, whether it's my room or a house, I also love doing crafts, making gifts, and things like that.

I enjoy playing sports, I love playing volleyball (although i'm not very good), I played hockey for 3 years when I was a child and I love it even though I'm out of practice. I also like handball, and I like to see other people doing sports or activities they like.

An obstacle in my life is that I'm very perfectionist with the things I have to do (either for school or another place) and sometimes this hurts me. Also I often take my time to do things and this delays me. I always have everything written down in diferent papers to organize myself and to know when is the time limit to carry out the different activities and I can do everything in the lapse of time.

My goals for this experience are to learn fluent English, to make good friends, to maintain a good relationship with my host family and the people who I'll interact, to learn from your culture, to learn dance in an academy (if possible) and to be able to sing.

At school I'd say I'm a good student. I really enjoy all the social and art-related subjects and I usually do really well in them, not so much on math, science or other tipe of exact sciences. I haven't yet decided what my career plans are, I know i want to attend to University and study something related to social studies and arts.

I think this is it, I really look forward to hearing from you son, I can't wait to meet you and start this experience.

Sending you all the best from Argentina,

Guili.
