OVERVIEW

Passavant Memorial Homes Foundation (PMHF) was created in 2001 to support Passavant Memorial Homes (PMH) and its commitment to enriching the lives of individuals with intellectual disabilities, autism, and behavioral health needs. PMHF ensures the financial stability of PMH's quality programs, which care for spiritual, social, physical, and emotional needs while promoting choice and independence. We are committed to providing the highest quality supports to the individuals we are privileged to serve. PMHF upholds the contention that all people have the right to lead full, productive, and independent lives.

The PMHF Community Service Scholarship was created in memory of Jamie Ellenberger. Jamie was a young man who PMH was privileged to serve. He thrived in his community despite adversity. Diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder, Jamie successfully transitioned from living in a state facility to becoming an active member of his new residential community at PMH.

While part of PMH's community residential program, Jamie was an enthusiastic and contributing member of society, both in community-based activities and in our vocational training program. His positivity and perseverance were always paired with kindness and a smile. After his passing, this scholarship was established in his honor, so his legacy can continue to make a lasting impact in the community in which he loved being a part of.

Through our scholarship program, we hope to encourage local students to pursue a postsecondary education as well as take a renewed look into their community and to find unique opportunities to become a part of its furtherance. We want our youth to recognize that community service can provide opportunities to acquire valuable life skills and knowledge as well as provide a service to those who need it most. We want to show students that their actions can have a lasting and a positive impact on our society at large. Community service can teach compassion and acceptance; it can foster cultures of inclusion and advocacy; it can build positive, lifelong relationships that can ultimately strengthen our communities. We want our next generation of leaders to experience that.

PMHF is a member of Passavant Memorial Homes Family Of Services (PMHFOS). For more information on PMHFOS and to access this information online, please visit our website at www.pmhfos.org.
